“I can’t speak highly enough of Palmetto College. The 2-way video professors make sure the students are involved and interacting during class. Remaining in Sumter was affordable financially and very convenient. I achieved my career through Palmetto College on the USC Sumter campus.”

James “Rob” Lybrand, CLASS OF 2012
Bullock Funeral Home

CHRISTOPHER FLOYD, CLASS OF 2013

Christopher Floyd was concerned about transferring in to USC Sumter from another college. However, once he was here he realized that the professors were approachable, the facilities were helpful and the courses provided a strong foundation for his current career. As a student from 2011-2013, he took advantage of all the campus has to offer.

Floyd used the knowledge he learned from the Bachelor of Arts in Organizational Leadership (BOL) Degree to land a job as a Production Supervisor at Becton-Dickinson. USC Sumter was instrumental for Floyd to become one of 25 people in the world to receive the Golden Key International Honor Society Undergraduate Achievement Scholarship of $5,000.

BLS & BOL Programs
Bachelor of Arts in Liberal Studies and Bachelor of Arts in Organizational Leadership
What are these programs?

BLS

Bachelor of Arts in Liberal Studies

Businesses and organizations need employees who can write and speak clearly, manage and solve problems and function creatively and effectively in the real world.

This degree will prepare you for success in these critical areas through a multidisciplinary program you will design with an experienced advisor.

After completing the Carolina Core, you will design a major curriculum from one of these two options:

- Social and Behavioral Sciences
- Arts and Humanities

You will also select a closely related subject for a cognate area of study to satisfy the major.

An internship, South Carolina Studies and a senior capstone course complete the studies in this degree.

BOL

Bachelor of Arts in Organizational Leadership

Businesses, government and non-profits need leaders who understand workplace dynamics, laws and policies, and who can manage people.

This degree will prepare you for success in areas specific to leadership and the workplace. You will design this program with an experienced advisor.

After completing the Carolina Core and professional foundation courses such as business writing, statistics, economics and principles of management, you will design a major curriculum with courses chosen from these various disciplines:

- Business
- Communications
- History
- Philosophy
- Political Science
- Psychology
- Sociology

An internship, South Carolina Studies and a senior capstone course complete the studies in this degree.

WHITNEY THOMPSON PRESCOTT, CLASS OF 2011

Whitney Thompson Prescott used her Palmetto College degree to land a great job at the South Carolina Bar in Columbia.

Prescott attended USC Sumter from 2008-2011. Her favorite memories of the campus are the close-knit family atmosphere and the mentoring offered by the USC Sumter professors.

Although she could have transferred, she chose to remain in Sumter to finish her degree so she could “continue to work, remain at home and stay focused” on her goals.

“The BOL degree has opened many doors for my career.” - Whitney Thompson Prescott
